

- Orto d'Oro San Marzano whole peeled tomatoes are the Holy Grail of the Italian tomato world.
- San Marzano tomatoes are grown in the town as name suggests of San Marzano on the slopes of Mt. Vesuvius, Naples Italy, where the volcanic soil is said to contribute to the tomatoes thick, almost seedless flesh and intense flavour.
- San Marzano tomatoes are the only variety to hold a protected designation of origin (PDO). This designation requires that the San Marzano tomatoes come from a well-defined territory in the Agro Sarnese-Nocerino region where the Mediterranean climate and the fertile soil, rich in volcanic turf from the Vesuvius, are ideal for San Marzano tomatoes to grow and develop their uniquely intense flavour.
- This strict certification also ensures the compliancy and high quality of the San Marzano yearly harvest and a testament to their unique character.
- Distinguished by their pointed shape, vibrant red colour, dense texture, full-bodied consistency and sweeter taste.
- Best to use it as a tomato sauce for your pasta, meat, poultry dishes, risotto, pizza or in your favourite recipes for a touch of the authentic Italian taste.
